WHILE the citizenship of the blacks is fully recognized by Act of Congress, and while his right to vote at all elections in the District of Columbia is fully guaranteed, the City Charter of Washington forbids black men to hold office. To override this provision of the Charter, the Senate has passed a bill authorizing blacks to hold office in the District, the same as whites. This bill passed by the strong vote of 25 to 5.

This is right in point of principle. The only fault to be found with it is that many Republicans seem inclined to pass laws for other people to observe the spirit of which they are not willing to live up to in their own States, counties or cities. Thus, the Civil Rights Act, declaring blacks to be citizens of the United States to as full a degree as whites, is forced upon the South, while every application of the doctrine here in Pennsylvania is resisted by prominent Republicans who went into ecstacies when that bill was passed over the Presidential veto. We have not the profoundest respect for this sort of thing. If Republicans are not willing themselves to accept the citizenship of the blacks, they have no right, for party purposes, to compel the people of the South to accept it. If they will stoutly profess one thing, while airing their rhetoric against their opponents, and, with no attempt at concealment, put the very opposite into practice where they are individually concerned, they ought to expect ultimately to reap the wretched consequences of their shameless duplicity.

THE Madoc gold mines, located in Heastings county, Canada West, are yielding large quantities of the precious metal. The property was used for farming purposes up till the beginning of last year, when the presence of the metal becoming known, a party of shrewd Chicago gentlemen became purchasers of the tract. The Canadians learning the immense value of the mines, endeavored by an armed mob to drive the Chicago "yankees" out of their possession, and as the claim of the latter was not indisputable, owing to the existence of a lease of the premises previous to sale, a compromise was effected by forming a joint stock company to work the mines, the Chicagoans retaining a controlling interest. The gold is the richest ever discovered and exists in incredible quantities.

WHEN GEN. OULD, the Rebel Commissioner, charged with exchanging prisoners of war, was recently before the Committee of the House of Representatives, he stated that he offered to exchange twenty thousand sick Union prisoners, and that his offer was declined. Gen. Butler, in his place on the floor of the House, denied the accuracy of this statement. Our recollection is that the offer was made as stated by Gen. Ould, and that it was refused distinctly on the ground that our side would be compelled in place of disabled men to give up well ones who could immediately be made to fill gaps in the rebel armies. These discrepancies in statements, show the necessity of a thorough investigation into this matter.

ADMIRAL SEMMES is credited with the remark that "all rebels are loved by all nations except that against which they are in rebellion." This only expresses the experience of mankind in all ages. In large part, it was this universal sentiment that induced the people of Europe very generally to give their sympathies to the Southern Confederates.

This explains why each nation, while dealing harshly with its own rebels, insists that all other nations shall deal leniently with their's. Europe asks the United States to deal with its rebels as no nation on that continent ever dealt with its own; and this is exactly what the United States has done.

MR. JEREMIAH BLACK has been President JOHNSON's favorite adviser in his opposition to Congress. To his pen is attributed the message dissenting from the Supplemental Reconstruction Bill which will probably be sent to Congress to-day. He was President BUCHANAN's Attorney General; and in that capacity invented the opinion that Congress had no constitutional power to coerce a State. All the works he has been doing for President JOHNSON are but variations of that doctrine.

THE Lebanon Courier pertly remarks that "some of our exchanges are discussing the proper locality for the Chairman of the Union State Committee to have his headquarters. We consider it a very immaterial question, as the work of the campaigns is done by quite a different class of men than those who figure at the head of State Committees. The position seems to be sought as a stepping stone to emoluments and office, and that appears to be about all that is in it."

IN maintaining the correctness of the President's view that by denying the legality of the governments of the seceding States, Congress made the general government responsible for the debts of those States, the Democratic journals ran before they were sent. Not a Senator has ventured to endorse the Presidential quiddit. In the House only eighteen members could be found to dissent from a declaration that the President intended to stab the national credit.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON at last threatens to do a sensible thing, which is to resign, in case his forthcoming veto shall not be treated with the respect he feels to be due from Congress. If Congressional disrespect is tolerable under any circumstances, a little might be useful just here.

THE Waynesburg Republican comes to us this week in an entirely new dress and enlarged size. It is one of the best conducted and most enterprising weekly newspapers in the State, and is eminently worthy of encouragement and support from the Republicans of Greene county.

GEN. JAMES LONGSTREET has been named for the Senate from Louisiana by the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion, "feeling that the honor of the South would be secure if confided in council to the keeping of one who guarded it so well in the field."

THE St. Louis Journal is authority for the assertion that many of the leading Democrats of the country are pulling the political wires to place General McClellan once more in nomination for the Presidency.

MR. JAMES JONES, editor of the Jersey Shore Vidette is recommended as the Republican candidate for State Senator in the Lycoming district.

Arrival of Madam Juarez—She Meets with a Grand Reception—President Juarez at the Capital—Declines a Re-Election—Address Concerning the Execution of Maximilian.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 19.—The United States revenue cutter Wilderness arrived here last night from Vera Cruz, where she arrived on the 14th inst. with Madam Juarez. A deputation of Mexican officials boarded the vessel, and warmly welcomed Madam Juarez back to Mexico. On the 15th inst. she disembarked from the Wilderness, and met with an enthusiastic public reception, both civil and military. The display during the day was a gala one, and at night the city was brilliantly illuminated, and there was a magnificent display of fire works in her honor. Accompanied by a large party of Mexican nobilities she was to leave for the city of Mexico on the 16th inst.

President Juarez arrived at the capital on the 14th, and was cordially received. He emphatically declines a re-election, and has ordered a new election. He will return to the mountains as soon as his successor is chosen.

It is officially reported that General Vidaurie has been shot. Marqueze is believed to be hiding in the City of Mexico, and will be shot as soon as captured.

It was reported in Vera Cruz on the 14th, that Santa Anna was still alive, but later dates received in this city from Tampico, state he had been shot.

Everything was quiet in Vera Cruz, and the city was perfectly healthy.

The Austrian sloop of war Elizabeth was receiving Austrian refugees on board. She held no communication with Mexican officials, except through the United States gunboat Taconey and Consul Sooliner.

The Wilderness brings dispatches to the British, French and Austrian governments.

The Liberals are about publishing an address to the world, in which they expect to justify themselves for the execution of Maximilian. It will treat of the killing of six thousand three hundred Mexicans for defending their native soil, and cite precedents which they think will clearly prove their acts within the range of propriety. They will produce documents which they say will throw new light upon what they have done. Some of the ablest men in the Republic are engaged on the work.

McCallum for Secretary of State, William Jones for Comptroller, and Edward C. Jeffries for State Printer. The remainder of the ticket is composed of the nominees of the late Union Convention. The Convention endorsed the reconstruction policy of Congress, and favored impartial suffrage, without distinction of color.

J. D. Goodman has withdrawn as an independent candidate for Congress in the Northern District, leaving the field clear throughout the State for the Congressional nominees of the Union party.

The Victoria Morning News, of July 4th, states that the principal object of Governor Seymour's visit to the northwest was to examine Queen Charlotte Island, for which it is said a wealthy company have offered a large sum of money, if they can obtain a fee simple transfer from the sovereignty of Great Britain. THE VETO.

The President's Reasons for Disapproving the Supplementary Reconstruction Bill.

CONGRESS CHARGED WITH CREATING A MILITARY DESPOTISM.

Threat Not to Execute the Law.

THE PEOPLE APPEALED TO.

WASHINGTON, July 19th, 1867.

To the House of Representatives of the United States:

I return herewith the bill entitled, "An Act Supplementary to An Act, entitled An Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," passed on the 2d day of March, 1867, and the act supplementary thereto, passed on the 23d day of March, 1867, and will state as briefly as possible some of the reasons which prevent me from giving it my approval.

This is one of a series of measures passed by Congress during the last four months, on the subject of reconstruction. The message returning the act of the 2d of March last, states at length my objections to the passage of that bill. They apply equally well to the bill now before me, and I am content merely to refer to them, and to reiterate my conviction that they are sound and unanswerable.

There are some points peculiar to this bill which I will proceed at once to consider. The first section purports to declare the true intent and meaning, in some particulars, of the two prior acts upon this subject. It is declared that the intent of those acts was, first, that the existing governments in the ten rebel States were not legal State governments; and second, that thereafter said governments were to be continued, subject in all respects to the Military Commanders of the respective districts, and to the paramount authority of Congress. Congress may by declaratory act fix upon a prior act a construction altogether at variance with its apparent meaning, and from the time at least when said construction is fixed the original act will be construed and mean exactly what it is stated to mean. By the declaratory statute there will be, then, from the time this bill may become a law, no doubt, no question, as to the relation in which the existing governments in those States, called in the original act Provisional Governments, stand towards the United States,—in the relation they stood before the declaratory act. These governments, it is true, were made subject to absolute military authority in many important respects, but not in all, the language of the act being "subject to the military authority of the United States as hereinafter prescribed by the sixth section of the original act, these governments were made, in all respects, subject to the paramount authority of the United States." Now, by this declaratory act, it appears that Congress did not, by the original act, intend to limit the military authority to any particular subjects therein prescribed, but meant to make it universal. Thus over all these ten States this military government is now declared to have unlimited authority. It is no longer confined to the preservation of the public peace, the administration of criminal laws, the registration of voters, and the superintendence of elections, but in all respects is asserted to be paramount to the existing civil governments. It is impossible to conceive any state of society more intolerable than this, and yet it is to this condition that twelve millions of American citizens are reduced by the Congress of the United States. Over every foot of the immense territory occupied by these American citizens the Constitution of the United States, theoretically, is in full operation. It binds all the people there, and should protect them, yet they are denied every one of its sacred guarantees, and of what avail will it be to any one of these Southern people, when seized by a file of soldiers, to ask for the cause of arrest, or the production of the warrant? Of what avail to ask for privilege of bail, when in military custody, which knows no such thing as bail? Of what avail to demand a trial by jury, process for witness, a copy of the indictment, the privilege of counsel, or that greater privilege, the writ of habeas corpus?

The veto of the original bill of the 2d of March was based on two distinct grounds,—the interference of Congress in duties strictly pertaining to the reserved powers of the States, and the establishment of military tribunals for the trial of citizens in time of peace. The impartial reader of that message will understand all it contains. With respect to military despotism and martial law, it has reference especially to the powers conferred on the district commanders to displace the criminal courts and assume jurisdiction to try and punish by military boards. Most potentially the suspension of habeas corpus was martial law and military despotism.

The act now before me not only declares that the intent was to confer such military authority, but to confer unlimited authority over all the courts of the State, and over all officers of the State, legislative, executive and judicial. Not content with the general grant of Congress, the second section of this bill specially gives to each military commander power "to suspend or relieve from office, or from performance of official duties and exercise of official powers, any officer or person holding or professing to hold or exercise any civil or military office in such district, under any power, election, or appointment derived from or granted by or claimed under any so called State or the government thereof, or any municipal or other division thereof." A power that hitherto all the Departments of the Federal Government, acting in concert or separately, have not dared to exercise, is here attempted to be conferred on a subordinate military officer. To him as a military officer of the Federal Government is given the power, supported by a sufficient military force, to remove every civil officer of the United States. What next? The district commander who has thus displaced the civil officers is authorized to fill the vacancy by the detail of an officer or a soldier of the army, or by the appointment of some other person. This military officer, whether an officer, or a soldier, is to perform duties of such officer or person so suspended or removed. In other words, an officer or soldier of the army is transferred into a civil officer. He may be made a Governor, a legislator, or a judge. However unfit he may deem himself for such civil duties, he must obey the order. The officer, if detailed, must go on the Supreme Bench of the State, with the same prompt obedience as if detailed to act in a court martial. The soldier, if detailed to act as a justice of the peace, must obey as quickly as if detailed for picket duty. What is the character of such military civil officers? This bill declares that he shall perform the duties of the civil office to which he is detailed. It is clear, however, that he does not lose his position in the military service. He is still an officer, or soldier. He is still subject to the rules and regulations which govern the army, and must yield due respect and obedience towards his superiors. The clear intent of this section is that the officer or soldier detailed to fill a civil office must execute its duties according to the laws of the State. If he is appointed a Governor of a State, he is to execute the duties as provided by the laws of that State, and for the time being his military character is to be suspended in his new civil capacity. If he is appointed a State Treasurer, he must at once assume the custody and disbursement of the funds of the State, and perform those duties precisely according to the laws of the State, for he is entrusted with no other official duty or other official power than the holding of the office of Treasurer and entrusted with funds. It happens he is required by the State laws to enter into bond with security, and take an oath of office, yet from the beginning of the bill to the end there is no provision for any bond or oath of office, or for any single qualification required under the State law, such as residence, citizenship, or anything else. The only oath is that provided for in the ninth section, by the terms of which every one detailed or appointed to any civil office in the State is required to take the oath of office prescribed by law for the officers of the United States. Thus, an officer of the army of the United States, detailed to fill a civil office in one of these States, gives no official bond, and takes no official oath for the performance of his new duties, but as a civil officer of the State only takes the same oath which he had already taken as a military officer of the United States. He is, at last, a military officer, performing civil duties, and the authority under which he acts is Federal authority only, and the inevitable result is that the Federal Government, by the agency of its own officers, in effect assumes the civil government of the State. A singular contradiction is apparent here. Congress declares these local State Governments to be illegal governments, and then provides that these illegal governments shall be carried on by federal officers, who are to perform the very duties imposed on its own officers by this illegal State authority. It certainly would be a novel spectacle if Congress should attempt to carry on a legal State government by the agency of its own officers. It is yet more strange that Congress attempts to sustain, to carry on illegal State governments by some federal agency.

In this connection I must call attention to the tenth and eleventh sections of the bill, which provide that none of the officers or appointees of these military commanders shall be bound in his action by an opinion of a civil officer of the United States, and that all the provisions of the act shall be construed liberally, to the end that all intents thereof may be fully and perfectly carried out.

It seems Congress supposed this bill might require construction, and they, therefore, applied this rule. But where is the construction to come from? Certainly no one can be more in want of construction than a soldier or an officer detailed for a civil service, perhaps the most important in a State, with the duties of which he is altogether unfamiliar. This bill says he shall not be bound in his action by the operation of any civil officer of the United States. The duties of the office are altogether civil; but when he asks for obedience, he can only ask the opinion of another military officer, who, perhaps, understands as little of his duties as he does himself, and as to his action he is answerable to the military authority, and the military authority alone. Strictly no opinion of any civil officer, other than a Judge, has a binding force, but these military appointees would not be bound even by a judicial opinion. They might very well say, even when their action is in conflict with the Supreme Court of the United States, that the Court is composed of civil officers of the United States, and we are not bound to conform our action to any opinion of any such authority.

This bill, and the acts to which it is supplemental, are all founded on the assumption that these ten communities are not States, and their governments are not legal. Throughout the legislation upon this subject they are called rebel States, and in this particular they are denominated so-called States, and the vice of illegality is declared to pervade all of them. The obligations of consistency bind a legislative body as well as the individuals who compose it. It is now too late to say that these ten communities are not States. Declarations to the contrary made in these two acts are contradicted again and again, by repeated acts of legislation by Congress from the year 1861 to the year 1867. During that period, while the States were in actual rebellion, and after that rebellion was brought to a close, they have again and again been recognized as States of the Union. Representatives have been apportioned to them. They have been divided into judicial districts for the holding of District and Circuit Courts of the United States, as States of the Union only can be districted. The last act on this subject was passed July 23d, 1866, by which every one of the ten States were arranged into districts and circuits. They have been called on by Congress to act through their Legislatures, upon at least two amendments to the Constitution of the United States. As States they have ratified one amendment, which required the vote of twenty-seven States of the thirty-six composing the Union. When the requisite twenty-seven votes were given in favor of that amendment, seven of which votes were given by seven of these States, it was proclaimed to be a part of the Constitution of the United States, and Slavery declared no longer to exist within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction. If these seven States were not legal States of the Union, it follows as an inevitable consequence that in some of the States Slavery yet exists. It does not exist in these seven States, for they have abolished it also in their own State Constitutions; but Kentucky, not having done so, it would still remain in that State. But in truth, if this assumption, that these States have no legal State governments, be true, then the abolition of Slavery by these illegal governments binds no one, for Congress now denies to these States the power to abolish Slavery, by denying them the power to elect a legal State Legislature, or frame a Constitution for any purpose, even for such a purpose as the abolition of Slavery. As to the other Constitutional amendment, having reference to suffrage, it happens these States have not accepted it. The consequence is, it has never been proclaimed, or understood even, by Congress, to be a part of the Constitution of the United States. The Senate of the United States has repeatedly given its sanction to the appointment of Judges and District Attorneys for every one of these States; yet, if they are not legal States, not one of these Judges is authorized to hold a court. So, too, both Houses of Congress have passed appropriation bills to pay all these judges, attorneys, and officers of the United States for exercising their functions in these States. Again, in the machinery of the Internal Revenue laws, all these States are described, not as territories, but as States.

So much for continuous legislative recognition. The instances cited, however, fall far short of all that might be enumerated. Executive recognition, as is well known, has been frequent and unwavering. The same may be said as to judicial recognition throughout the Supreme Court of the United States. That august tribunal, from first to last, in the administration of its duties, in banc and upon the circuit, has never failed to recognize these ten communities as legal States of the Union. The cases in that Court upon appeal and writ of error from these States, when the rebellion began, have not been dismissed on any idea of cessation of jurisdiction. They were carefully continued from term to term until the rebellion was entirely subdued and peace established. They were called for argument and consideration, as if no insurrection had intervened. New cases occurring since the rebellion have come from these States before that Court, by writ of error and appeal, and even by original suit. These cases are entertained by that tribunal, in the exercise of acknowledged jurisdiction, which could not attach to them if they had come from any political body other than a State of the Union. Finally, in the allotment of their circuits, made by the Judges at the December term, 1866, every one of these States is put on the same footing of legality with all other States. Virginia and North Carolina being a part of the Fourth Circuit, are allotted to the Chief Justice. South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi constitute the Fifth Circuit, and were allotted to the late Mr. Justice Wayne. Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas are allotted to the sixth Judicial Circuit, in which there is a vacancy on the bench. The Chief Justice, in the exercise of his duty, has recently held a Circuit Court in North Carolina. If North Carolina is not a State of this Union, the Chief Justice had no authority to hold a Court there, and every judgment and decree delivered by him in that Court was coram non judice and void.

Another ground on which these reconstruction acts are attempted to be sustained is this: That these ten States are conquered territory; that the constitutional relation in which they stood as States towards the federal government prior to the rebellion has given place to a new relation, that is, the territory is conquered territory, and their citizens conquered people, and in this new relation Congress can govern them by military power. A title by Congress stands on clear ground. It is a new title, acquired by war. It applies only to territory, or for goods or moveable things regularly captured in war, called booty, or if taken by individual soldiers, plunder. There is not a foot of the land in any one of these ten States which the United States holds by conquest, and only such land as did not belong to either of these States, or any individual owner. I mean such lands as did belong to the pretended government, called the Confederate States. These lands we may claim to hold by conquest. As to all other lands or territory, whether belonging to the States or individuals, the Federal government has now no more title or right to than it had before the rebellion. Our own forts, arsenals, navy yards, custom houses and other Federal property, situated in these States, we now hold, not by the title of conqueror, but by an old title, acquired by purchase, or condemnation for public use, with compensation to former owners. We have not conquered these places, but simply repressed them. If we require more sites for forts, custom houses, or other public uses, we must acquire the title to them by purchase or appropriation in regular mode. At this moment the United States, in the acquisition of sites for national cemeteries in those States, acquires title in the same way. The Federal Courts sit in court houses owned or leased by the United States, not in court houses of the States. The United States pays each of these States for the use of its jails. Finally, the United States levies its direct taxes and internal revenue upon the property in those States, including the productions of the lands within the territorial limits, not by way of contribution in the character of conquered States, but in the regular way of taxation under the same laws which apply to all the other States of the Union. From first to last, during the rebellion and since, the title of each of these States to the lands, and public buildings owned by them has never been disturbed, and not a foot of it has ever been acquired by the United States, even under a title of confiscation, and not a foot has ever been taxed under Federal law.

In conclusion, I must respectfully call the attention of Congress to the consideration of one more question, arising under this bill. It vests in the military commanders, subject only to the approval of the General of the Army of the United States, an unlimited power to remove from office any civil or military officer in each of these ten States, and further power, subject to the same approval, to detail or appoint any military officer or soldier of the United States to perform the duties of the officer so removed, and fill all vacancies occurring in those States by death, resignation or otherwise. The military appointee, thus required to perform the duties of a civil office according to the laws of the State, and as such required to take an oath, is for the time being a civil officer. What is his character? Is he a civil officer of the United States? Where is the federal power under our Constitution which authorizes his appointment by any federal officer. If, however, he is to be considered a civil officer of the United States, as his appointment and oath would seem to indicate, where is the authority for his appointment by the Constitution? The power of appointment of all officers of the United States, civil or military, where not provided for in the Constitution, is vested in the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, with this exception, that Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the President alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments; but this bill, if these are to be considered inferior officers, within the meaning of the Constitution, does not provide for their appointment by the President alone, or by courts of law, or by heads of department, but vests appointments in a subordinate officer. So if we put this question and fix the character of this military appointee, either way this provision of the bill is equally opposed to the Constitution. Take the case of a soldier appointed to perform the office of Judge in one of these States, and as such to administer the proper laws of the State, where is the authority to be found in the Constitution for vesting in a military or an executive officer strict judicial functions, to be exercised under the State law? It has been again decided by the Supreme Court of the United States that the acts of Congress which have attempted to vest executive power in the Judicial Courts, or Judges of the United States, are not warranted by the Constitution. If Congress cannot clothe a Judge with merely executive duties, how can they clothe an officer or soldier of the army with judicial duties over citizens of the United States who are not in the military or naval service? So, too, it has been repeatedly decided Congress cannot require a State officer, executive or judicial, to perform any duty enjoined on him by a law of the United States. How can Congress then confer power upon an executive officer of the United States to perform such duties in a State, if Congress could not vest in a Judge of one of these States any judicial authority under the United States by direct enactment? How can it accomplish the same thing indirectly, by removing a State Judge and putting an officer of the United States in his place?

To me these considerations are conclusive of the unconstitutionality of this part of the bill before me, and I earnestly commend their consideration to the deliberate judgment of Congress.

Within a period of less than a year the legislation of Congress has attempted to strip the Executive Department of the government of some of its essential powers. The Constitution and the oath provided in it devolve on the President the power and duty to see that the laws are faithfully executed. The Constitution, in order to carry out this, however, gives him the choice of agents, and makes them subject to his control and supervision; but in the execution of these laws the constitutional obligation upon the President remains. But the power to exercise that constitutional duty is effectually taken away. The military commander is, as to the power of appointment, made to take the place of the President, and the General of the army the place of the Senate, and any attempt of the President to assert his own constitutional power may, under pretense of law, be met by official insubordination. It is to be feared these military officers, looking to the authority given by these laws, rather than to the letter of the Constitution, will recognize no authority but the Commander of the District and General of the army. If there were no other objections than this to the proposed legislation, it would be sufficient.

While I hold the chief executive authority of the United States; whilst the obligation rests on me to see that all the laws are faithfully executed, I can never willingly surrender that trust, or the powers given for its execution. I can never give my assent to be made responsible for the faithful execution of laws, and at the same time surrender that trust, and the powers which accompany it, to any other executive officer, high or low, or any number of executive officers. If this executive trust, vested by the Constitution in the President, is to be taken from him and vested in a subordinate officer, the responsibility will be with Congress in clothing the subordinate with unconstitutional power, and with the officer who assumes its exercise. This interference with the constitutional authority of the Executive Department is an evil that will inevitably sap the foundations of our federal system, but it is not the worst evil of this legislation. It is a great public wrong to take from the President powers conferred on him alone by the Constitution; but the wrong is more flagrant and more dangerous when the powers so taken from the President are conferred on subordinate executive officers, over nearly one-third of the States of the Union. Military power, regulated by no fixed law, rules the supreme power. Each of the five District Commanders, though not chosen by the people or responsible to them, exercises at this hour more executive power, military and civil, than the people have ever been willing to confer upon the head of the Executive Department, though chosen by and responsible to themselves. The remedy must come from the people themselves. They know what it is and how it is to be applied. At the present time they cannot, according to the forms of the Constitution, repeal these laws. They cannot remove or control this military despotism. The remedy is, nevertheless, in their hands. It is to be found in the ballot and is a sure one, if not controlled by fraud and awed by arbitrary power, or from apathy on their part too long delayed. With abiding confidence in their patriotism, wisdom and integrity, I am still hopeful of the future, and that in the end the rod of despotism will be broken, the armed heel of power lifted from the necks of the people, and the principles of a violated Constitution preserved.

CONGRESS

In Extraordinary Session.

VETO MESSAGE RECEIVED.

Supplementary Reconstruction Bill Passed Over the Veto in Both Houses.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]
WASHINGTON, July 19, 1867.

SENATE.

A message was received from the House announcing the action of that body on the bill of the Senate to further secure equal rights in the District of Columbia.

The House resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to withhold payment on certain cotton claims adjudicated in the Court of Claims until further ordered by Congress, was taken up.

Pending its consideration the Senate went into executive session.

Subsequently the joint resolution for the extension of mail steamship service between Japan and China by the introduction of additional vessels without increased expense, was passed.

Mr. HENDERSON introduced a joint resolution placing Missouri militia on an equal footing with other troops as to bounty, &c. This resolution was passed at last session by both houses, but failed to reach the President in time. Referred to Military Committee.

Mr. SUMNER, from Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a joint resolution expressive of sympathy with the sufferings of Crete, and directing the President to communicate a copy of the resolution to the Government of Turkey. Passed.

The CHAIR submitted a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury, in response to a resolution inquiring whether any legislation was necessary to expedite the payment of bounties. Ordered on the table.

The House amendment to the Senate bill, to further secure equal rights in the District of Columbia, was concurred in, with an amendment authorizing the Criminal Court to draw grand and petit jurors for the June term of that court.

After a recess Mr. SUMNER introduced a bill to strike out the words "free white person" from the Naturalization laws of the United States wherever they occur therein.

Mr. SUMNER stated he received a letter from Norfolk, stating the case of foreign born colored persons who could not be naturalized under the laws as they stand.

Mr. EDMUNDS, while in favor of the proposition, thought the bill ought to be examined by the Judiciary Committee, and moved its reference to the Committee. It was so referred.

The Senate went into Executive Session. The doors were reopened at 4:25.

A communication from the Secretary of War in response to a resolution inquiring if legislation was necessary to expedite the payment of bounties, was laid before the Senate, and ordered to be laid upon the table, with the report of the Paymaster General accompanying it; also, a communication from the President, in reference to a resolution calling for information in regard to recent events in Mexico. Referred to Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. SHERMAN suggested the resolution of adjournment be taken up and disposed of.

THE VETO MESSAGE—THE BILL PASSED OVER IT.

Mr. SUMNER thought it better to hear the Veto Message read first.

Mr. JOHNSON called for the reading of the message and it was read.

Mr. TRUMBULL said the extraordinary position assumed in that message, and as I think indefensible positions, might well call for reply. I think most of the positions assumed in, and all of them so far as are known, denying the authority of Congress to pass this bill, are indefensible, but there is an indisposition in the Senate to have its time occupied with this discussion. If it be the pleasure of the Senate to vote upon it at once, I shall forego any remarks that under other circumstances I should feel inclined to make. If it be the pleasure of the Senate I will detain.

[Cries of "question" from several Senators.]

The Chair put the question, "Shall the bill pass, the President's objections notwithstanding?"

Yeas—Messrs. Anthony, Cattell, Chandler, Conkling, Cragin, Edmunds, Fessenden, Foster, Frelinghuysen, Grimes, Harlan, Henderson, Howard, Morgan, Morrill, (of Maine,) Nye, Patterson, (of New Hampshire,) Pomeroy, Ramsey, Ross, Sherman, Sumner, Thayer, Tipton, Trumbull, Van Winkle, Wade, Willey, Wilson and Yates—30.

Nays.—Messrs. Bayard, Buckalew, Davis, Hendricks, Johnson, and Patterson, (of Tennessee.)—6.

The CHAIR announced that the bill, having been passed over the veto by a vote of two-thirds of each House, was a law.

The Appropriation bill and the veto were the next taken up. The bill was passed without debate over the veto—yeas, thirty-two, nays, four.

Mr. JOHNSON, who voted negative on the first veto, voted in the affirmative in this. The negatives were Messrs. Buckalew, Davis, Hendricks and Patterson.

QUESTION OF ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. SHERMAN called up the House concurrent resolution for adjournment, and moved substantially for it, as follows: That the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House shall adjourn their respective Houses on Saturday, July 20th, until the first Monday in December.

Mr. SUMNER moved to strike out "first Monday in December," and insert "first Wednesday in October."

MR. SUMNER AND THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. SUMNER said one of two things must be done. Either the President must be removed from the chair he occupies, or Congress must continue its permanent session to watch him. When I make that statement I make it with the full sense of my responsibility as a Senator, knowing well what may come hereafter, and what duties may devolve upon me; but as a Senator of the United States, I deem it my duty to make this public declaration, that I may do what I can to put my associates on their guard, and to remind the country of what, in my opinion, is the duty of the hour. It is for another branch of the government to take such proceedings as they may think proper, in order to call the President to judgment. It is for us, should they take these proceedings, to enter upon judgment. Until then, it is the duty of every Senator to express his mind freely with regard to the conduct of the President. No duty that may devolve upon us in the future can constrain us now speaking thereof. Under the responsibility of this hour, I still say that, in my opinion, Congress ought to remove this incumbent from office, or sit here constantly in their seats to watch and counteract him. It is because he is still President that I insist you shall sit here in order to do what you can to neutralize the mischief which proceeds from him, which we have reason to believe must proceed from him so long as he continues in power. For this reason, which I have very simply and very briefly stated, I hope the resolution of the Senator from Ohio will not be adopted. If I could have my way, Congress would not leave their seats. They should stay here as a guard to the Constitution, as a constabulary force for the Union men throughout the rebel States; but it is proposed to go home and abandon these Union men a prey to the President.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THE INDIAN BILL.

The Senate bill to establish peace with certain hostile Indian tribes, was ordered to be printed.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT.

The Speaker presented a message from the President, in answer to resolutions of the House, to the following subjects:

As to what States have ratified the Constitutional Amendment. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The correspondence with Ex-Minister Campbell of Mexico, and his successor. Referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs.

In reference to a certain agreement said to have been entered into between the United States, European and West Virginia Land and Mining Company, and certain reputed agents of the Republic of Mexico. Referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The additional list of persons pardoned for rebellion. Referred to Judiciary Committee.

The copy of the treaty between the United States and Emperor of Russia, for the cession of Russian America. Referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The copy of the Convention between the United States and Venezuela, for adjustment of claims of citizens of the United States against the Government of that country. Referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs.

THE PRESIDENT'S VETO OF THE SUPPLEMENTARY RECONSTRUCTION BILL.

The SPEAKER then submitted the Message of the President vetoing the Supplementary Reconstruction bill, which was read by the Clerk. [We give the message entire in another place.]

THE VETO CONSIDERED.

The reading of the veto having been concluded, Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, rose and said he was disposed to have a vote on the question at once. He was not aware that there was any disposition to discuss it, and presumed the House was prepared to vote on the arguments of the President. If there was not such a desire, he did not know but a few moments might be very well spent in that way.

A general desire was manifested on the republican side for a vote at once.

BILL PASSED OVER THE VETO.

A debate ensued, which was participated in by Messrs. BOUTWELL, BUTLER, RANDALL, BOYER, STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, WILLIAMS, of Pennsylvania, PRUYN and WILSON. The House then, at four o'clock, proceeded to vote on the bill, and it was passed by a constitutional two-thirds majority.

On motion of Mr. BURNES the Secretary of the Treasury was directed to furnish a statement of the amounts received in the different collection districts from distilled spirits for the several fiscal years since 1862, and for the seperate quarters of the last fiscal year, so far as received; also the amount of expenditures on the part of the government for prosecuting offenses against the law; also the quantity of whisky seized, and the amount received as confiscated spirits and for fines.

Mr. JUDD offered a resolution giving a prominent place in the National Capitol, or old Hall of the House of Representatives, for a stone from the tomb of Servius Tullius, sent here a year ago by the people of Rome to commemorate the virtues of Abraham Lincoln. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. BUTLER, the Committee on the Assassination of the President was authorized to conduct the investigation by sub-committees and at such places as may be convenient, with authority to administer oaths.

Mr. LINCOLN asked leave to offer a preamble and resolution reciting, it is rumored that frauds and speculations are being committed in the office of the Paymaster General, and authorizing the appointment of a committee of five to investigate the workings of the Paymaster General's office and all transactions connected with the department.

Objection being made, the rules were suspended, and the resolution adopted.

On motion of Mr. WASHBURNE, the Select Committee on Soldiers Bounty Claims was authorized to inquire into the causes of delay in the payment of bounties, with power to examine witnesses and send for persons and papers.

Mr. VANWYCK offered a resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to communicate the facts and reasons on which an order, made on the 2d of March, 1867, by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, exempting Geo. W. Thomas from the payment of special tax or other duty on what is pretended to be a charitable enterprise. He denounced the scheme pretending to be for the relief of the Southern poor as a cheat and swindle. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. BRIGGS offered a preamble and resolution, reciting that great damage will be sustained to the crops and other property on the Mississippi and its tributaries, caused by the destruction of the levee; that appeals for government aid are being made by the inhabitants of some of the States lately in rebellion; that it is the desire of Congress that all persons in the country shall receive their just share of their protecting and fostering care; and that Congress looks with solicitation for their return to the Government; that neither Congress nor the loyal people of the country desire to withhold from any portion of the inhabitants any rights or benefits to which all loyal citizens are entitled; and declares that Congress desires immediate restoration by the full and perfect return to allegiance of all the States lately in rebellion; and that as soon as they send true and undefiled Union men to Congress they will be admitted to full communion in the Government and to the benefits of legislation. Referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. BANKS, from the Committee on Rules, made an adverse report on the resolution for the appointment of a Standing Committee on Internal Revenue, which was laid on the table.

Mr. BANKS reported back favorably the resolution for the appointment of a Standing Committee on Education.

Mr. BAKER opposed it on the ground that there already was a Standing Committee on Education and Labor.

Mr. BANKS explained that the object was to divide those duties.

The resolution was rejected by 28 yeas against 60 nays.

Hearing Restored in Five Minutes.

When I applied to Dr. Aborn, 134 Smithfield street, this morning, (Saturday, July 13th,) I was so deaf in my right ear that I could not hear my watch tick when I pressed against it, and had been so for years. In five minutes time he restored my hearing. Now I can hear my watch tick at a distance of eight inches. This I consider a remarkable cure.

Important Arrest—Alleged Noted Counterfeiter Caught.

Before United States Commissioner S. C. McCandless, yesterday, a hearing was had in the case of a man named William Johnston, charged with dealing in counterfeit fractional currency. Johnston is well up in years, is represented to be very wealthy, and is a livery stable keeper in Altoona, Blair county. His arrest was secured by Captain Franklin, of Philadelphia, Operative of the Secret Division of the United States Treasury Department. It is represented that Johnston has been for a number of years one of the leading counterfeiters in the Western District of Pennsylvania, and one of the principal circulators of counterfeit money along the line of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, through which instrumentality he is said to have acquired his wealth. Thus, it would seem, his villainous career has been brought to an unexpected check, and, it is but just to say, through the direct exertions of Capt. Franklin, who, in his operations throughout the State, is known as the inveterate enemy of counterfeiters, many of whom he has been successful in weeding out of the community. His efforts have been bent mainly to entrapping principals in the business, the apprehension of one of whom is of more importance than a score of those who operate in a small way.

At the hearing of Johnson, Capt. Franklin testified that on the 10th of April last, at Altoona, he purchased from him for forty dollars one hundred and ninety-nine pieces of fractional currency, of the denomination of fifty cents, and that at the time of this transaction he stated that sometime during the following month of May he expected to have on hand new counterfeit "fives." The fractional currency purchased from Johnson was exhibited, being of the better executed description, well calculated to deceive.

At the conclusion of the hearing the Commissioner said he would require the accused to give bail in the sum of ten thousand dollars for his appearance at the August term of the United States Court. Josiah Cohen, Esq., counsel for the prisoner, thought the bail excessive. United States District Attorney Carnahan said Judge McCandless required heavy bail to be taken in cases where there was probable cause to believe the party arrested a dealer in counterfeit money, and the Commissioner stated it was in accordance with this requirement that he fixed the bail at the amount stated, believing there was probable cause to consider Johnston a "dealer." Being wealthy, Johnston produced the required amount of security for his appearance for trial, and was released from custody.

Fire on Wood Street.

A fire occurred at No. 22 Wood street, between First and Second, about four o'clock yesterday. The alarm was sounded from box No. 7, and in a short time the steamers were on the ground at work. The building, which is a three story brick, is occupied by Henry Higby, dealer in china, glass, and queensware. The third story was used as a wareroom, and in it were stored about fifty crates of ware, also a considerable pile of rubbish, loose straw, &c., in which the fire originated, and was communicated to the straw in the crates. There had been no fire in the building for three weeks, and Mr. Higby informs us that no one has been in the third story for several days, and how the fire originated remains a mystery, unless it arose from the flue of an adjoining building. The damage done by the fire was very trifling, as it did not extend beyond the crates of dishes, but the house is considerably injured by the flood of water poured into it. The total loss will not exceed two thousand dollars, and is fully covered by insurance in the Continental and Metropolitan companies of New York and the Franklin of Philadelphia. We learn that the building is owned by Mr. David Dehaven, of Allegheny City. The fire burned almost an hour, and might have been put out in half the time but for the want of ladders to reach the third story windows. After the arrival of the Columbia Hook and Ladder Company, of Allegheny, a ladder was put up and the Duquesne boys run their hose up and soon made it too wet for the fire in that region. An incident occurred during the fire which we feared was going to terminate in a fight, but, fortunately, it passed off as a joke. While the Duquesne boys were in the windows, some one of the companies who were operating from below accidentally turned their stream on them, and after it had been repeated several times, John Hamill, who had the pipe, turned it on the crowd below, when all three of the streams were turned on the windows, causing the Duquesne boys to do as the whale said to Jonah, "Go in out of the wet."

Found Dead.

Friday forenoon Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the dead body of Henry C. Witter, deputy collector of the first sub-division of the 23d District, at which the following facts were elicited: Deceased had arranged to be in Bakerstown on Friday, for the purpose of receiving taxes, and concluded to sleep in the office, No. 67 Water street, Allegheny city, on Thursday night. Before retiring, about twelve o'clock, he requested Adam Melby, private watchman in the locality, to rouse him about five o'clock in the morning, in order that he might be in time to take the Butler stage. At the time appointed Watchman Melby went to the office, but after rapping at the door for some time, failed to elicit any response and concluding that Mr. Witter had already gotten up, started home. Shortly before eight o'clock the office boy found the deceased lying upon a table on his side. He thought deceased was sleeping, and endeavored to arouse him, but on touching his body found it was cold. He then called in a relative of deceased, employed in a neighboring store, and afterwards Dr. Speer, who pronounced life extinct, and believed from indications that death resulted from natural causes. The jury so found.

Deceased was about twenty-four years of age, was unmarried, resided with his mother and two sisters, in Allegheny, and had been in the collector's office for over four years. He was regarded as a very worthy young man, and his sudden death is the source of deep regret.

The Old Original Tea Store.

We have hitherto referred to the great difficulty experienced by our housekeepers in procuring choice articles of tea and coffee. The trade has, to use a vulgar expression, been "run in the ground," and all sorts of wicked impositions have been practiced on the community by unprincipled dealers. However a change has of late came over the business, and honest dealers embarkin it to effect a reform. Among these we will be permitted to especially mention our friend, Joseph Robinson, who has taken charge of the old and well known Tea Mart at No. 20 Fifth street. He is jealous of the high reputation of the old stand and has resolved that it shall afford customers opportunities for the purchase of pure and good teas and coffees, which can be surpassed by no other house of the kind in the country. The finest Young Hyson, Old Hyson, Imperial, Gunpowder, English Breakfast, Congos, Souchong, Oolong, Black, and other celebrated brands of teas will be found at the most reasonable prices. The best of green and roasted coffees, together with sugars, spices, &c., &c., will also be found at this establishment. We cheerfully commend the old house under the charge of Mr. Robinson to the patronage of our readers, knowing that they can purchase no where else to better advantage or procure better qualities of teas or coffees.

Another Speedy Cure.

Mr. John Morrison, one of our late worthy grand jurymen, makes the following statement of his speedy recovery from a disease of the head and chest from which he had nearly perished!

I cheerfully make known to the public the speedy manner in which I have recovered from my critical state of health under the treatment of Dr. Aborn, at No. 134 Smithfield street. I have been afflicted for several years with catarrh of the head, which at last affected my throat, and soon thereafter my lungs became involved. And also this filthy head accumulation, gravitating downwards, destroyed the functions of my stomach and liver. I was so dyspeptic, and my liver so deranged, that what little food I did eat offered so little nourishment to the system that I soon became very much reduced in flesh. I was perfectly miserable. Life afforded no enjoyment. What enjoyment can one find that was afflicted as I was! I have been under the treatment of Dr. Aborn but three weeks, and the remarkable change which has taken place in the character of my disease in so short a time is almost incredible. My appetite is fully restored to its former power; have gained many pounds in weight, and am still gaining, and am once more on the road to health, as the results of his peculiar treatment.

Boy Injured—Amputation.

Wednesday afternoon John Hahn, aged twelve years, residing with his parents at Braddock's Fields, whilst returning home from picking berries, walking on the track of the Connellsville Railroad, observed a train approaching in front, and stepped on the opposite track to avoid it, but thus got in the way of another train approaching behind him. He was struck by the locomotive and fell partially under the train, the wheels passing over his right arm, crushing and mangling it terribly between the elbow and shoulder. He also received contusions about the head. After being conveyed to his home physicians were sent for and it was concluded to amputate the mangled arm, the operation being performed by Drs. Dickson and Hamilton, of this city, assisted by Drs. Gore and Schooley, of Braddock's Fields. The boy is in a critical state.

The Excitement in the oil market has revived the neglected business of refining and the services of the plumber and steam fitter are daily required to right matters for operation. We know of no more worthy or experienced mechanic to recommend to our readers for such work than our friend T. T. Ewens, the well known gas, steam and water fitter, No. 165 Wood street.

Allegheny Fire Alarm.—There will be a meeting of Allegheny Councils this evening to witness the workings of the Fire Alarm Telegraph of that city, which has been completed and the boxes placed, a list of which, with their location, we gave in a former issue.

State Senator.

The undersigned will present to the Union Republican County Convention, the name of RUSSELL ERRETT, Esq., of Robinson township, as an eminently suitable person for nomination as State Senator. For many years he has been intimately identified with the interests of the City and County, and possesses a thorough acquaintance with their resources and their necessities. No man in this community is his superior in knowledge of the wealth, capacities and statistics of the State; and we are confident that he is equal to any in the tact, energy and acquaintance with Parliamentary proceedings, so necessary for a successful Legislator. His integrity is unimpeachable. In his hands the honor and dignity of the County will be well sustained. In politics he has always been true to the most faithful exposition of Republican principles.

We therefore urge upon Republicans in every district of the County to unite with us in securing his nomination.

Personal.

Captain W. M. Geddes, an old Pittsburgher, connected with the Provost Marshal's office here during the greater part of Colonel Foster's administration, is now on a visit to his friends, having arrived from New Orleans a few days since. Mr. Geddes was engaged in business in the Crescent City at the breaking out of the rebellion, and being loyal, took the first opportunity to leave secessiondom. Upon the overthrow of the rebels, he returned to New Orleans, resumed business, and afterwards assisted in "reconstruction," serving in the capacity of Register under appointment from General Sheridan, which appointment he resigned, just prior to starting North. Mr. Geddes is warmly greeted by his many friends, by whom he is held in the highest esteem for his probity, social qualities, and all that goes to make up the true gentleman.

Capt. George W. Murphy, as we observed while at the Custom House, yesterday, now occupies a desk in the office of the United States Marshal. The increased business of the office, owing to the operation of the Bankrupt Law, requiring more clerical assistance, Marshal Rowley called to his aid Capt. Murphy, than whom there are few if any more competent in every way to discharge the duties of the position. For saying this the Captain may regard us as talking fulsomely; but not so, and in this community, where he is so well and favorably known, no such idea will be entertained.

The Piano War Over—Steinway's Superiority Admitted.

The International Jury, refined and competent judges, have distinctly classified the Steinway piano first and before the Chickering, and thereby awarded to Messrs. Steinway the first gold medal of merit, and the second to Chickering, notwithstanding the most strenuous exertions, by nearly all the adherents of the old system in Paris, to have the names arranged alphabetically which the Supreme Jury as well as the Imperial Commission refused to do, and the names remained in order of merit, as the official report of the Jury will show.

We repeat that the securing of a ribbon—the lowest grade of the Legion of Honor—by Mr. Chickering, through influential friends, from the French Government, is an entirely personal and outside matter, without the slightest connection with the awards at the Exposition, not being recommended by or known to the Jury; and however it may be used as an "advertising dodge," to make people believe the contrary, it will never make the Chickering second medal in order of merit equal to the Steinway first—so distinctly classified by the International Jury, whose decision since may be regarded as the true standard of excellence.—New York Weekly Review.

Dr. Keyser.

Who for the past three years, has had an office for the treatment and cure of chronic diseases at 120 Penn street, has recently been performing some of the most astounding cures ever recorded. We witness that of a Miss Fisher of Beaver county, who was perfectly blind and sightless, and after a great deal of medical treatment from other sources, was entirely restored to the fullness of perfect vision by the treatment of Dr. K. in less than three months. We have published in the GAZETTE several times some extraordinary cures of diseases of the ear, amounting to a total loss of hearing, which were cured by him. The case of Mr. Garrett, of Allegheny City, is one worthy of especial notice, as it was a case in which by the loss of the function of hearing, the young man forgot the power of speech. Both the hearing and speech were restored to him by Dr. Keyser's treatment. It is worthy of remark that in the cures published by Dr. K. the residence and number of the house of the person cured is given, so that no one need be deceived who chooses to make the proper inquiry.

Jewelry at Reduced Rates.

To our lady readers and others contemplating buying jewelry, watches and articles in that line, the well-known establishment of James Scott, No. 274 Liberty street, possesses superior attraction. A large and elegant assortment of the latest and most fashionable styles of jewelry will be found at the most reasonable prices, as Mr. Scott is desirous of closing out his present stock of goods to make room for another invoice. Every article sold is warranted to prove in wear all that it is represented at time of sale, and readers can depend on receiving the full worth of their money out of all purchases made from Mr. Scott. A large stock of clocks of every description, gold and silver watches, valuable diamond sets, plain jewelry, engagement rings of solid gold, silver plated ware, and other articles peculiar to the trade will be found on hand, from which a selection can be made with ease. We bespeak for Mr. Scott an increased share of public patronage.

Extensive Robbery.—H. Goldstein, a peddler, lodging in the house of A. Skillcoll, No. 5 Market street, was robbed yesterday morning of dry goods to the amount of four hundred dollars. The goods, consisting of silk dress patterns, etc., were taken from the room occupied by Goldstein, during his absence up street on business. Another peddler, named Moses Boltermann, who roomed with Goldstein, disappeared at the same time with the missing goods, which causes a suspicion that he is the thief. The police have been advised of the matter, and are in search of Moses.

Seriously Injured.—Thursday evening about four o'clock, a horse, attached to a butcher's wagon, ran away on Beaver street, Allegheny, and when near Esplanade street the wagon struck a buggy occupied by Mr. McGaffick, of the Mansion House, and Mr. John Clark. The buggy was completely overturned, and the horse attached thereto running away, Messrs. McGaffick and Clark were dragged for a considerable distance, the former sustaining severe injuries about the head, and the latter escaping with a few slight bruises. Mr. McG. was conveyed to his home, where he now lies under medical care.

The Japanese "Bancroft."—The historian of the troupe now in our city, styles Pittsburgh as the "Coolie" city of America, that is the dirty one. He says that the soot makes negroes of all, although the people are very good and handsome. He does not use a Harper's Guide Book.

Fire in Manchester.

A destructive fire occurred on Beaver avenue, between Washington and Chestnut, in Manchester, about half-past eleven o'clock last night, by which four buildings were totally destroyed. The fire originated in the paint shop of Mr. A. Barnes, and was communicated to the dwelling and clothing store of L. Worth, on the north, to the harness shop of Fred. Rubel, on the south, and to a stable in the rear, occupied by Grant & Rayner. The goods and a part of the furniture in Worth's house were saved, but the building, which was owned by Samuel Neely, was burned to the ground. There were five horses in the stable when it took fire, but they were taken out before they had sustained any injury. The harness and paint shops, with their contents, were a total loss. The stable and paint shop, as we were informed, were owned by Christopher Gerber. There was a small insurance on the harness shop, which was owned and occupied by Rubel. The loss is estimated at three thousand dollars. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, as it originated in the rear of the paint shop, where there had been no fire for at least three months. The Allegheny steamers were on the ground, but the fire had made such progress when they arrived, that they could do nothing more than keep it from spreading to the adjoining buildings. The scarcity of water in that locality renders the steamers almost powerless, and had it not been for the water in some of the cellars, to which the suction hose were run, the fire would have been a great deal more destructive.

The Continental Saloon.

Among the many well conducted first class restaurants and eating saloons in the city none stand higher in the estimation of the public than the "Continental," situated next door to the Postoffice, on Fifth street. It has for a long time past been under the management of Mr. Wm. Holtzheimer, the worthiest and most skilled of proprietors, and has ever merited and received a large share of public patronage. The saloon is well arranged for the business to which it is adapted, being large, airy and neatly fitted. The furniture is of first class style, while the utmost cleanliness prevails. All the cooking is done in the rear of the saloon—a great convenience in this warm weather which other places for dining might profitably adopt. The tables are kept constantly supplied with the choicest of viands and delicacies which the markets afford, served up in the very best style of the culinary art. The bar is liberally supplied with ales, wines and beers, no stronger beverages being sold. To those desirous of procuring a first class meal, we can safely recommend Mr. Holtzheimer's saloon.

The Best Known Tonic—Caswell, Mack & Co.'s Combination of Iron Phosphorus and Calisaya, known as Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya. The iron restores color to the blood; the Phosphorus renews waste of the nerve tissue, and the Calisaya gives a natural, healthful tone to the digestive organs.

One pint contains the virtue of one ounce of Calisaya and one teaspoonful a grain of iron and Phosphorus. Manufactured by CASWELL, MACK & Co., New York. For sale by all druggists.

IT is probable that a plot has been conceived for the annexation of Mexico to the United States; though we do not place any reliance on the specials to the New York Herald touching this matter. SATURDAY, JULY 20, 1867.

THE STATE SENATORSHIP.

A written requisition, bearing the signatures of many earnest and respectable Republicans of Allegheny county, has been made upon Colonel RUSSELL ERRETT, to become a candidate for the State Senate, in place of the Hon. THOS. J. BIGHAM, whose term of membership will soon be out. In view of the situation as thus presented we feel impelled to make a few suggestions.

The Colonel is essentially, and in all the attributes of his nature, an honest man. He is earnest, constant and true. He feels strongly on all questions that enlist his attention and regards, and adheres to a principle or a cause with unflinching tenacity. We had a fine illustration of this trait in his character some two years ago. He was then a large stockholder in the GAZETTE Association, which was receiving the Government patronage, and was, besides, a Paymaster in the army, stationed at this post, and drawing a comfortable salary, in consideration of the duties performed. At that time he was, furthermore, associated with us, in the editorial management of the GAZETTE. As soon as we became satisfied that President JOHNSON meditated treachery to the party by which he was elected, and was actually conspiring with its enemies for its destruction, we wrote such an exposition of the matter as we felt to be demanded by the emergency. When it was finished, we laid the manuscript on the Colonel's table, and requested him to read it. This he did, and when he had finished, handed it back, remarking that he fully concurred in the train of argument and the conclusions arrived at. "But," said we, "if this shall be inserted in our editorial columns, you will lose your office, and the GAZETTE the government advertising." His quiet answer was, "I do not see that we ought to stultify ourselves for that." The leader went in. The GAZETTE lost the government patronage, and the President issued a peremptory order to muster the Colonel out of office; which was done. A man who can thus stand, without a struggle, by his principles, at heavy pecuniary sacrifice, can be safely trusted anywhere.

2. The Colonel is a man of rare intelligence. His mind is naturally analytical, and has long been exercised in dealing discriminatingly with public questions. He knows the State, its wants, its resources, and its impediments. He knows a large proportion of the men who occupy official or personal positions which give them a controling influence; understands their several characters, the motives by which they are governed, and what they may be expected to do under given circumstances. These are all valuable acquisitions or attributes for a man in public life.

3. The Colonel has had experience in the Senate. He was for a considerable space its Clerk, and hence acquired a familiarity with all the details of business. If he shall be nominated and elected to the Senate, this experience will enable him to become immediately useful, and to a very high degree.

4. The Colonel has been an anti slavery man all his life. He was an abolitionist from principle, when to be one entailed certain disparagement, reproach and loss. He participated in all the incipient steps by which the Republican party was called into existence. Nay, many of those steps originated with him. His powerful advocacy of them through the columns of his journal gave them their first impulse. It was in this city, and largely under his auspices, that the primitive meeting was held to start the Republican organization; and from that day to this his adherence to it has been steadfast and unfaltering. Clear in his perceptions, firm in his attachments, whether to individuals or principles, he has never deviated or flagged, but he has always been in advance of popular opinion.

—It is not our purpose to pre-judge the claims of any other gentleman whose name may be mentioned in this connection. But the Colonel was for so long a period closely identified with the GAZETTE, and we put so high an estimate upon his talents, uprightness and tact, that we cannot refrain from bearing this testimony in his behalf. If the nomination shall be given him it will be most worthily bestowed, will insure the services of a competent gentleman in the Senatorial office, and will afford deep contentment to many members of the party.

THE PROFOUNDEST SENSATION that has agitated Europe this year is that produced by the execution of MAXIMILIAN and his followers by the republicans of Mexico. Nor is this sensation diminished by the recollection that every nation on that quarter of the globe has been as sanguinary when exposed to like provocation. Somewhat of this indignation must be attributed to that traditionary "reverence that doth hedge a king;" but more of it is due to the fact that Mexico, from afar, thus beards three of the most illustrious monarchies of the old world.

England, judging from the tone of Lord STANLEY's declaration in the House of Commons, has determined to take no official notice of the late events in Mexico. Three quarters of a century ago she undertook to supervise and regulate the internal affairs of France, and the experiment cost two millions of lives and untold millions of dollars. The present burdens of England are the legacies of that experiment. France, during the first part of this century, endeavored to control all the nations of continental Europe. To an extent altogether unprecedented since the end of the Roman domination, she pulled down whom she would, and put up whom she pleased. The military glory she acquired was immense, but it did not compensate for the mighty sacrifices that attired half the families of a continent in mourning.

There are rumors that certain of the powers will combine to avenge the death of Maximilian. While it is probable that such a scheme may have been suggested, and even have been entertained, it is most improbable that a serious attempt will be made to carry it into execution. Momentary rage may prompt to measures certainly involving the killing of a hundred thousand men in redress of the slaughter of a single individual, but before so large a scheme can be provided for, passions are apt to subside and other considerations to assert their importance.

The recent events in Mexico happened because three or four first-class European powers thought it easy for them to do what they would with the people and government of that country. The experiment was made on a gigantic scale, and proved a humiliating failure. In addition to loss of prestige, it cost vast sums of money which those powers could not well afford to spare. Such results do not invite a repetition of the enterprise. Besides, under present circumstances an European army invading Mexico might find the Mexicans re-inforced by auxiliaries drawn thither from the United States by love of military adventure.

It is much safer to conclude that if the European Governments which are specially aggrieved by the death of MAXIMILIAN, are disposed to express their resentments in acts going beyond the suspension of diplomatic and consular intercourse, they will make a formal demand for his body, and if that shall be refused, bombard one or more of the towns situated on the coast. Spain recently did something in this way with some South American States, but succeeded mainly in drawing upon herself the detestation of all other nations.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Kentucky loyalty during the terrible rebellion is a matter of history, and since its termination, the people of that State generally have failed to comprehend the lesson so clearly taught by that struggle. This fact is not only seen in its political status, as developed in the humiliating position in which some of its representatives in Congress have been placed, but most of the ministers show the same animus, and resist every measure that is not in harmony with their views upon Slavery and kindred subjects. For years the Presbyterian Church has borne with these disturbers of her peace, so that we were prepared to learn that the Synod of Kentucky, had decided in reference to its future ecclesiastical relations. The members of this body, composed of adherents to the Declaration and Testimony, met at Lexington, Kentucky, quite recently. Forty ministers and forty-six elders were present. Considerable discussion took place relative to the form of organization. Some favored an independent body, while others, such as Dr. Stuart Robinson, wished to join the Southern Presbyterian Church. At the close of the discussion, it was resolved that this Synod contained the original and genuine Presbyterian Church; that the General Assembly was revolutionary and schismatic, and had seceded from the Synod, and that all the property of the General Assembly belonged of right to the Synod and to any other Synod that join with them. The Synod is thus to remain independent, and join with the Synod of Missouri in claiming the rights, franchises, &c., of the Presbyterian body. It appears the chief objection to the Southern Church was that it had sinned almost as much as the Northern Church.

Quite an interest has been awakened in New York, because of the large gifts of the Legislature to institutions under the care of the Roman Catholics. It has been ascertained that the appropriations to charitable institutions last year amount to $128,029 49. Of this sum $124,174 14 were given to Catholic charitable institutions. Since 1846, when the present State Constitution was adopted, the Catholics, with the $124,174 14 added, a grand total of $645,416,95, has been given directly by the State Legislature in aid of Roman Catholics.

The Fifty-ninth Annual Report of the Pennsylvania Bible Society is just out. The organization of this Society dates back to an earlier period than the American Bible Society. In 1837 its circulation was only 5,449 copies of Bibles and Testaments, valued at $2,7:2 62; while for the past year the amount is $43,009 82, and the circulation was 116,113 copies, including 20,000 distributed at the South. Rev. Albert Barnes is President, assisted by Bishop Stevens, of the Episcopal Church; Rev. John T. Pressly, D. D., of the U. P. Church; Bishop Simpson, of the M. E. Church; Rev. Howard Malcolm, D. D, of the Baptist Church, and others, as Vice Presidents. Rev. W. W. Eells, relected as Secretary for Western Pennsylvania, has shown himself to be quite capable and efficient for the responsible duties of the position.

A number of converted Jews lately held a meeting in New York for prayer and consultation how to best reach the more than fifty thousand Jews living in that city, and present the plan of salvation. These Jews propose to preach to their brethren Jesus of Nazareth as their promised and expected Messiah, without pay, but hope to support themselves while engaged in preaching. On the other hand, a recent convention of Jews, held in Philadelphia, had under consideration a paper relative to some of the lineal descendents of the lost tribe in the interior of China, in which it was urged that inasmuch as efforts are making to convert them to christianity, that means should be adopted to counteract such efforts. The Universal Israelitish Alliance of Paris are about to send out a special messenger for that purpose.

The Church Union, a paper edited with singular ability, intimates that the Liberal Christian regards billiards may be made a means of grace, and that Samaritans are good fellows, who have an eye to the viands and don't distribute tracts to "convert" the wayside fallen, every chance they get. It thinks that Liberal Christianity evidently means, "Do as you please."

An exchange, with sarcastic words, asserts the Universalist, Unitarian, and infidel press continue to quote, comment upon, and otherwise hug closer and closer the Independent; all these tendencies of consolidation of men of like doctrine and life, show that God's people are getting by themselves, and the errorists are going to their own place.

It is not often religious papers attempt to rebuke the secular press in such a pointed manner as a religious weekly has done the New York Times. After showing up its connection with the Philadelphia Convention, which it avers killed the Times, past resurrection politically, it argues, religiously the Times is a figure nine, only with its caudal appendage obliterated. It says it is not religious, however, for decency is not religion; nor is a faultless chronicler necessarily a worshipper of God.

It is estimated from the returns for Centenary purposes in the two New York Conferences of the M. E. Church, and some subscriptions known and not officially reported, that the aggregate will reach the grand sum of one and three-quarter millions.

The Lutheran Synod of Ohio, at its recent meeting, formally adopted the doctrine of Close Communion, and declared it to be an indispensable condition of Lutheran synodical union and church fellowship. The Lutherans in Missouri have been practising the rule for sometime, and the Ohio Synod, under their leadings, now adopt it.

Many conjoin the Moravians and the United Brethren as one body. The United Brethren have no connection with the Moravians, and is of American origin. The movement originated in Pennsylvania in 1760, by Dr. Otterbein, a German missionary. From this small beginning, under discouraging circumstances, this body of plain and devoted Christians, now number thirty annual conferences, 1,150 preachers, 4,507 preaching places, and nearly 100,000 members. They have an extensive printing establishment at Dayton, Ohio, and control seven institutions of learning, of which Otterbein University is at the head.

The Christian Intelligencer chronicles the generous act of Mr. John P. Courter, who died recently at Montville, N. J., in inserting in his will a legacy of one thousand dollars, the interest of which is to be paid annually to the pastor of the Dutch Reformed Church at that place. The fact is worthy of mention as such thoughtfulness rarely occurs.

The Catholic announces the safe arrival of Bishop Domenec of this Diocese at Rome on the 17th of June. During the entire journey the Bishop was favored with excellent health. He intends leaving Rome immediately at the close of the Canonization ceremonies, which were to have taken taken place on the 7th of July, so that his return is looked for at an early day.

An amusing incident occurred at the session of the Erie M. E. Conference in New Castle, Pa., last Monday. A colored brother solicited help to obtain an education, which called out speeches from two ministers, one opposing and the other favoring his request. Dr. Kinsley thought there were men in the Conference who could not educate their children and he preferred contributing money to them. Elder Bain said he had no objection to charity beginning at home, but he did not believe in letting it end there. He closed by wishing to see the time when we should have as many black D D.'s as white ones. Dr. Kinsley responded that he favored the idea, because in that event there might be a colored college started, and then there would be a possibility of that degree being conferred upon Brother Bain, who retorted that he would as soon accept the degree from such a source as from colleges he could name. Dr. Kinsley was made a D. D. by Allegheny College in June last.

Her nephew, E. Cushman, is United States Consul at Rome. Miss Emily Stebbins, the sculptress, resides with Miss Cushman.

—Farm hands are wanted in the West, and the demand comes for them from all quarters. The enormous crop now ready for the harvest will require, to properly secure it, more hands than can be procured in the West, and this affords a splendid opportunity to the thousands of men out of work in the Eastern cities, who are unsuccessfully going from one store to another soliciting employment.

—Rev. Henry W. Bellows, now sojourning in Paris, writes that "Napoleon has a poor walk and an uninteresting presence. He looks care-worn and cold, anxious and reserved. His complexion is pallid and his expression deprecatory. There is nothing to excite enthusiasm in his look or manner. In private he is reported as mild spoken, amiable and of quick intelligence, but his face is both impassive and unpromising. All the portraits flatter him."

—In the county of Kent, England, great faith is placed in the Birling recipe for the cure of hydrophobia; and well authenticated instances can be adduced to prove its efficacy. The secret now rests with a family who are willing to part with it for five hundred pounds sterling. With the commendable desire of securing the information to the good of the public, the vicar of Birling has started a subscription, which already amounts to two hundred pounds sterling.

—Late advices from Salt Lake state rich gold discoveries have been made in the Utah mines. Forty ounces of gold dust were brought in, which were crushed from the quartz in two days, and which, on being assayed, weighed over thirty-eight ounces. The mines are located two hundred miles from Salt Lake, in the Green river country. Extensive mines have just been discovered at the head of Little Lost river. The excitement is culminating in a general stampede of miners. The mines are reported to be eighty miles from Salmon City.

—Maryland is now organizing four brigades of State troops, for which Gov. Swann has just ordered 5,000 stand of arms. The leading officers of these troops, Gen. Cooper, who commands the first brigade, Col. Herbert, who commands the first regiment of the second brigade, and others, were officers in the rebel army. The first regiment of the second brigade is composed of 1,000 ex-rebel soldiers, who wear the Confederate gray uniform and are armed with Springfield rifles. The men now engaged in recruiting the militia were all in the rebel army or prominent stay-at-home rebels. Gov. Swann was offered a regiment of colored soldiers, but declined to accept them.

A TIMELY WARNING.
It is especially important at this time, when the markets of the United States are flooded with the direst poisons, under the name of imported liquors and when domestic compounds purporting to be medicinal, but not a whit less pernicious, are heralded to the world as "sovereign remedies," that the public should fully understand the facts. Be it known, then, that while all the diffusive stimulants called liquors are impure, and all the Tonics containing alcohol are manufactured with a fiery article containing amyl or fusil oil, a mortal poison, HOSTETTERS' CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS contain none of these things, but are a combination of pure essence of Rye with the pure juices of the most valuable stomachic, antibilious and aperient herbs and plants, and that as a safe and rapid remedy for Dyspepsia and all its kindred complaints, this preparation stands before the world without a rival or competitor. Its sales to-day are equal to the combined sales of all the other tonics advertised in the United States, and the certificates which authenticate its usefulness are signed by individuals of the highest standing in every professional calling and walk of life. Beware of imitations and imposters.

PINUS CANADENSIS.
A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.
Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnue, published some time ago.
The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.
Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street.

☞THE MEMBERSHIP AND CONGREGATION OF BROWN'S A. M. E. CHAPEL, through its Trustees and Pastor, Rev. J. W. DEVINE, appeal to all classes of Christians, in the name of our Sovereign Ruler, the God and Father of all, for help, to enable them to complete their church, now in course of erection, on the corner of Hemlock and Boyle streets, Allegheny. Favored by the kindness of a few white friends, and the untiring efforts of the membership, our little Church has been trying to erect another Temple to the honor of the Living God, ever since our building on East Commons was destroyed by the guilty hand of an incendiary.
We wish and pray for the success of all Christians, whether Presbyterians, Baptists, Episcopalians, or others. There are enough colored people in the two cities and its environs to fill churches specially devoted to the evangelical teachings of these denominations. Church Power is not alone our aim. We wish to build a church wherein we can worship God according to our consciences, and the light which HE has given us.
Prof. S. A. NEALE, who is not of our faith, but is, nevertheless, an earnest worker in the Spiritual Kingdom of the Master, will act as our Agent for a brief while, and we have invested him with letters which empower him to solicit subscriptions from all well-wishers.
We also respectfully announce that a Grand Celebration of the victories of Freedom in this country, will come off at UNION PARK, in the Western part of Allegheny, AUGUST 1st, 1867. All the Colored Military and Civic Societies will participate, and a Grand Tournament will be one of the features of the occasion. All the profits will be devoted to the payment of our church debt.

BELTING AND PACKING OFFICE OF W. & A. J. PACKARD,
Youngstown, Ohio, June 17th, 1867.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.
GENTLEMEN—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 6th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,

THE
RAIL ROAD CO.
Are now constructing a Railroad from OMAHA, NEBRASKA, westward towards the Pacific Ocean, making, with its connections, an unbroken line
ACROSS THE CONTINENT.
The Company now offer a limited amount of their
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
Having thirty years to run, and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and July, in the City of New York, at the rate of
SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,
At Ninety Cents on the Do'lar.
This road was completed from Omaha 305 miles west on the 1st of January, 1867, and is fully equipped, and trains are regularly running over it. The Company has now on hand sufficient iron, ties, etc., to finish the remaining portion to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, 212 miles, which is under contract to be done September 1st of this year, and it is expected that the entire road will be in running order from Omaha to its western connection with the Central Pacific, now being rapidly built eastward from Sacramento, Cal., during 1870.
Means of the Company.
Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific to be 1,565 miles, the United States Government issues its Six per cent. Thirty-year Bonds to the Company as the road is finished at the average rate of about $28,250 per mile, amounting to $44,208,000.
The Company is also permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which BY SPECIAL ACT OF CONGRESS ARE MADE A FIRST MORTGAGE ON THE ENTIRE LINE, the bonds of the United States being subordinate to them.
The Government makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, amounting to 20,032,000 acres, estimated to be worth $30,000,000, making the total resources, exclusive of the capital, $118,416,000; but the full value of the lands cannot now be realized.
The authorized Capital Stock of the Company is one hundred million dollars, of which five millions have already been paid in, and of which it is not supposed that more than twenty-five millions at most will be required.
The cost of the road is estimated by competent engineers to be about one hundred million dollars, exclusive of equipment.
Prospects for Business.
The railroad connection between Omaha and the East is now complete, and the earnings of the Union Pacific on the sections already finished, for the month of May, were $281,782. These sectional earnings, as the road progresses, will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and the through business over the only line of railroad between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.
Value and Security of the Bonds.
The Company respectfully submit that the above statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of their Bonds, and as additional proof they would suggest that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 517 miles of road, on which over twenty million dollars have already been expended; on 380 miles of this road the cars are now running, and the remaining 137 miles are nearly completed.
At the present rate of premium on gold these bonds pay an annual interest on the present cost of Nine Per Cent.,
And it is believed that on the completion of the road, like the Government Bonds, they will go above par. The Company intend to sell but a limited amount at the present low rate, and retain the right to advance the price at their option.

HUGH McKELVY, P. M.

Committed.

Ann Irwin was arrested on a street car on the Birmingham Passenger Railway, a few days since, in a state of beastly intoxication, and taken before Justice Barker, of South Pittsburgh, who committed her to jail for ten days. Ann was quite boisterous when arrested, and continued so until she was lodged in jail, when she subsided into a state of perfect quietness. She contended with the Justice that she was not drunk; said she had drank but seven glasses of whiskey during the day, and would like to have a bucket of ale to quiet her nerves.

Philip Uhlrich was committed in default of three hundred dollars bail for his appearance at Court by Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife, Margaret Ulrich.

Mary McDonald was arrested on a bail piece, charged with illegal liquor selling, and in default of eight hundred dollars bail, was committed for Court.

Assault and Battery Cases.

J. D. Johnson, the boy who was arrested and committed to jail for cutting James Lunzer, on the night of the seventh inst., in a sleeping car at the Union Depot, made information before Alderman Taylor, against Edward Holmes and James Lunzer, charging them with aggravated assault and battery. He alleges that he was assaulted by them, and that if he used a knife it was done in self defense. The parties were arrested and held for a hearing.

John Rowan charges Mr. Mehan with assault and battery, before the same officer, who issued a warrant for the arrest of Mehan.

Margaret Clemmens appeared before the same officer, and made information against her husband, Jacob Clemmens, charging him with a like offense. The parties reside in Birmingham. A warrant was issued for Jacob.

Patents to Pennsylvania.

Among the Patents issued from the United States Patent Office for the week ending July 9th, each bearing that date, were the following:

Frank Crandall, of Erie, for improved clothes dryer.

Lyman B. Crittenden, of Pittsburgh, for improvement in railroad cars.

Lyman B. Crittenden, of Pittsburgh, for improvement in brick machines.

Isaac Gregg, of Philadelphia, for improved mode of drying bricks.

Isaac Gregg, of Philadelphia, for improved apparatus for heating clay.

Isaac Gregg of Philadelphia, for improved apparatus for treating clay.

J. Henry Smith, of Pittsburgh, for improved petroleum filterer.

W. Dewees Wood, of McKeesport, for improvement in annealing in sheet iron.

Malicious Mischief.

Ellen Eichbaum made information before Alderman Mullen, of Allegheny, against Louis Bick, charging him with malicious mischief. She alleges that on the 18th inst., she sent her little girl from Duquesne borough, where she resides, to Allegheny after flour, and that the girl took a little hand carriage with her; that she got the flour and when on her way home, in crossing Ohio street, the defendant maliciously drove his horse and wagon over the carriage, and completely demolished it, spilling all the flour. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Hearing on Monday.—John Cline and Charles Pohle, arrested as the persons who committed the robberies at Irwin's Station, have been committed by Alderman Humbert for a hearing on Monday.

Sudden Death.—The Waynesburg Republican announces the sudden death, from apoplexy, of Mr. Daniel Hook, Justice of the Peace of that town, and one of the oldest and most respected citizens.

A Few Days since a son of Mr. Henry Newman, near Mechanicsburg, was struck by lightning and instantly killed, while plowing in a field.

Larceny.—James S. Hamlin appeared before Alderman Humbert and made information against Ellen Henderson, charging her with larceny. He alleges that the defendant entered his dwelling, at 26 Walnut street, on the 18th inst., and did then and there feloniously take, steal and carry away one black silk dress of the value of forty dollars, three other dresses of the value of twenty dollars, a pair of gaiters, and various other articles of women's apparel, whereupon a warrant was issued for the vain Ellen Henderson.

Surety of the Peace.—Margaret Harborn appeared before Alderman Donaldson and made information against Chas. Soddas and Wm. Soddas, his brother, for surety of the peace, alleging that the defendants threatened her life. The parties reside in the Third ward, Allegheny. The defendants were arrested and held for a hearing.

The President of the Young Men's Library Association of this city has appointed the following gentlemen as the Committee on Lectures for the approaching season: James B. Scott, W. P. Herbert, James B. Morgan, Jr., O. P. Scaife, Oliver Lemon, B. F. Jennings and E. V. McCandless.

Assault.—Margaret Sullivan made information before Alderman Morrow, against Mrs. Ratigan, charging her with assault, alleging that the defendant shook a chair over her head and threatened to strike her with it. A warrant was issued for Mrs. Ratigan.

G. A. R.—At a meeting of Post No. 33, Allegheny City, Thursday evening, officers were elected as follows: Post Commandant, J. R. Oxley; Senior Vice, J. S. Edgar; Junior Vice, J. G. Brown; Chaplain, E. S. Tyler.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SECOND BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS' GRAND PRESENTATION ENTERTAINMENT, will most positively take place at IRVIN HALL, on the evening of July 24th, 1867. The largest, greatest and most successful enterprise ever inaugurated in the world. A Present with every ticket.

The First Grand Concert was given on July 4th. It was a grand success. The mammoth Hall was filled with the elite of the city. The audience appointed a committee of nine of the leading Bankers and Merchants, to examine the corresponding numbers to the tickets and the Register Books, to see that all is correct before making the grand distribution of prizes at the last Concert, on the 24th of July.

A gift with every ticket. The Grand Distribution of presents will be conducted on the Mutual Benefit principle. A pro-rata Distribution of Profits to Ticket holders. Capital, $1,287,148. Tickets, $1 each. A present with every ticket.

A reference to the number of presents and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the commercial and financial standing of the company, and the managers and bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guarantee of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with it will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket holders will be most scrupulously watched over and guarded. In fact it is the desire of the managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest. The Pittsburgh Oil Exchange.

The Oil Exchange met yesterday at the Scott House, and was attended by almost the entire trade, there being upwards of one hundred persons present.

President R. W. Burke was in the chair and H. M. Long, Secretary.

The Committee on rules reported through their Chairman, Mr. Kirk, as follows:

This Board shall be known by the name of the Pittsburgh Oil Exchange, and shall be under the control of the Pittsburgh Petroleum Association, and subject to whatever rules it may adopt.

It shall meet every day at 12 o'clock, M. precisely, and adjourn at 12:30.

The meeting shall be open to all visitors, and shall be conducted without any formal organization, the object being simply a meeting for general and free conversation.

As the existence of this Exchange depends on the prompt attention of the men in the trade, we recommend the following paper for the signatures of all those who wish to support the institution.

We the undersigned refiners, dealers and brokers in Petroleum, do hereby agree that our respective firms shall be represented by at least one of our number every day at the Exchange Rooms, Scott House, at twelve o'clock, M.

And we respectfully invite all oil dealers, barrel manufacturers, dealers in refiners' supplies, and all persons in any way connected with the trade to meet with us, and we hereby inform all such that the foregoing is the time and place we wish to meet such as may have business with us.

The report was adopted unanimously and signed by the different firms as above. If they adhere to their pledges an Exchange in Pittsburgh is at last a success. The movement is the most encouraging one that has ever been made in this city.

Wide Streets.

We see that ordinances have been passed by the Councils of Allegheny City, providing for the widening of certain of her streets. This is a step in the right direction; but it is only a step. There remains much to be done that ought to be done quickly, if Allegheny would avoid the evils of narrow and inadequate streets, so sorely felt in Pittsburgh and other cities. The city authorities in Allegheny, as elsewhere, are the guardians of the interest which every cotemporary citizen has in the wise administration of the trusts confided to them, and not only of cotemporaries, but also the more solemn responsibility of caring for the interests of posterity. It is especially incumbent on the men of to-day, to consider and provide in all public affairs for the coming generations. It is in this view of the subject that we say there are many streets and lanes in Allegheny, which, if not widened now, when it can be done at trifling expense, will disgrace the city, and cause the inhabitants in the next generation to cry out against the men of today for their sins of omission. Take for example, Pasture lane, thirty-three feet wide—destined, if widened to 60 or 80 feet, to be one of the finest avenues communicating directly with the future park. The property abutting on this lane would in a few years, if widened be worth two or three times more than if suffered to remain a mere alley, as now. Pasture lane, Island lane, Strawberry lane, and all these narrow lanes should be widened at once, before any valuable buildings are added, as every year the necessity of greater width will be more felt and the difficulty and expense increased. We submit that the alleys which connect the four corners of the diamond or central square with the park should, if possible, be made into streets, and that no street should be permitted to remain less than fifty or sixty feet wide. If our friends in Allegheny agree with us in this, let them also agree with us that their duty to posterity demands that the work be done now, when it is possible, and not left until a teeming population shall crowd these narrow lanes and make it impossible.

"The Mayoralty."

EDITORS GAZETTE—The question of Mayoralty is properly receiving early attention at the hands of our citizens, and thus far an array of good names has been presented in connection with that office, and if a good selection is not made at the proper time, it will not be for want of good and early suggestions on the part of those having an interest in the advancement and welfare of Pittsburgh.

Should our various cities and boroughs (as they properly should and most likely will) become consolidated under one municipality, the greater the necessity for making selection of a candidate for Mayor, who can command the respect of all, and who will possess every requisite to discharge the duties which will then devolve on him, in such a manner as to maintain that office with dignity and success, establishing a reputation commensurate with the importance of such an event.

The man who, in the estimation of a large majority of our business and working community, possesses every requisite to discharge every duty that the office may require, with satisfaction, is our much esteemed friend WILLIAM A. HERRON, a gentleman well known to our entire community. His long connection with one of our county offices brought him directly in contact with the people, and his administration of his office was of such a character as to receive the endorsement and plaudits of all. Affable and kind in his intercourse; correct and sound in his judgment; honest in all his transactions; dignified and gentlemanly in his bearing, with a mind capable of comprehending impartially between man and man, he is by nature and acquaintance just such a person as we want for Mayor, a man capable and desirous to elevate the character of our city through the office of its chief magistrate. As some doubts have been already expressed of Mr. Herron's willingness to serve in this capacity, I am authorized to say, that upon the urgent solicitation of many prominent citizens, he has consented to the use of his name in connection with the Mayoralty, subject to the decision of his Union Republican friends, and if nominated and elected, he will enter upon the duties of his office with a firm determination to discharge the trust reposed in him with credit to himself and with honor to the city of Pittsburgh, giving his entire time and devoting his whole energy to a faithful performance of the trust reposed in him. "EIGHTH WARD."

False Pretences.

Cases of false pretence have of late been of such frequent occurrence, and so few of them amount to anything further than a means of extorting money from the accused, that but few of our Aldermen will have anything to do with them, unless the case is a very clear one, and such the following appears to be:

Nicholas Jacoby, who is a manufacturer of wagons, carts, &c., at the corner Fountain and Chatham streets, made information before Alderman McMasters against Daniel Daily, charging him with obtaining a cart, valued at $46.50, under false pretence. He alleges that the defendant came and bought the cart, and gave him an order on Macklin & McCabe, building contractors, stating that he had been hauling for the firm, that they owed him, and would pay the order as soon as presented. The order was taken by the prosecutor to the firm on which it was drawn, but they denied owing the man anything, and said he had never been employed by them, nor had he done any work for them whatever. Daily was arrested and held for a hearing.

The Japanese.

This wonderful company of jugglers, gymnasts and vaulters, continue to prove the attraction of the hour, and draw immense audiences. Our citizens owe a deep debt of gratitude to the worthy Tycoon of Japan for his generous kindness in permitting these clever performers to visit our shores and awe and astonish our people. The feats of balancing are truly wonderful, while the nerve, coolness and decision displayed by the Japanese in all their tricks and performances approach the marvellous. Perhaps our city may never again be visited by representatives from the famous land of Japan, and everybody should embrace the few remaining chances left to witness the extraordinary troupe in their daring acts. This afternoon, for the benefit of ladies and children, a matinee will be held, the performance to commence at half-past two o'clock precisely. The price of admission has been generously fixed at twenty-five cents for children and fifty cents for adults. To-night some new and wonderful performances will be introduced.

Surety of the Peace.

Richard Morgans made information before Alderman Thomas, against one Wm. Riddle; for threatening to kill his little son with a twenty pound stone. The suit was withdrawn on defendant paying the costs. The parties reside at Wood's Run.

Mary Shields made information before the same officer, against Elizabeth Clark, for threatening to kill her with an axe. The prosecutrix alleges that the defendant did run after her with an axe in her hands, and that she (the prosecutrix) narrowly escaped with her life, by running into her father's house and shutting the door, and that the defendant did knock down the door with the axe. A warrant was issued. The parties reside in Dutch alley, near Wayne street.

City Mortality.

A. G. McCandless, Physician of the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the City from July 7, to July 14, 1867:

Knights Templar at Meadville.

A new Commandery of Knights Templar will be organized in Meadville, on Monday next, by James H. Hopkins, Acting Grand Commander of the State. A large number of Sir Knights from this city propose to be present on the occasion, and will leave the Union Depot for Meadville at six o'clock on Monday morning. They intend taking their regalias with them, as a parade will take place after the ceremonies have been concluded. The demonstration, it is expected, will be a very imposing one.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
FRIDAY, July 19, 1867. }

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 139¾; Eighty-one bonds, 110¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 111¼; Five Twenties, 1864 109; Five Twenties, 1865, 109¾; Consols, 108; Seven Thirties, 107½@107¾; Ten Forties, 102. Stocks—Erie Railroad, 71; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 91½; Chicago and Rock Island, 99; Chicago and Northwestern, 44¾; Chicago and Northwestern preferred 70¼; Fort Wayne Railroad, 102; Michigan Southern Railroad, 79; New York Central, 106¾; Western Union Telegraph Company, 48¼. Mining shares—Corydon, 1,70; Quartz Hill, 2,15; Gregory, 6,65; Smith & Paramalee, 5,40.

Gold was rather lower to-day than in the fore part of the week, opening at 139¾, advancing to 140¼, and closing dull at 139¾. Importers are confident that by keeping out of the market at present the premium would soon decline to nearer 135, and the favorable reports from the West in regard to grain in general, and particularly wheat, our principal article of export from that region, would warrant such a presumption to be correct. Cash gold is a drug in the money centres, and is rather an expensive article to speculate for a rise at a time, when to all appearance, it is held above its market value. Governments are improving with the decline in gold, and the superabundance of money may force rates still higher. The upward movement is a healthy one, and is likely to be well sustained for a few weeks.

Railroad shares are lower, and nothing but the abundance of money on call keeps stocks at present figures, when the earnings of all the Western roads show a heavy falling off in receipts, and but a slight decrease in expenses. Mining shares are in better demand, and are strong at current quotations. The local money market is less stringent.

The sudden and almost unprecedented appreciation in the value of oil within the past two or three weeks, has infused a little life into some of the producing oil companies. There was considerable inquiry for Columbia to-day, with buyers at an advance of from $1.50 to $2 per share. Triumph seems to be the strongest and most popular oil stock in this market, and those who were fortunate enough to get hold of it at the recent low price, will no doubt make handsomely. This company, it is said, is now getting four hundred barrels of oil per day.

—The crop prospects, as reported by the press of the interior, are still of the most encouraging character. From some localities poor and medium results are announced, but the great mass of territory favors a crop which for management and good quality has never been surpassed. The corn crop everywhere along the Mississippi river, from Louisville to New Orleans, is represented as virtually secured and to be magnificent. The cotton in the same section is looking well, but the hopes of the Southern people are suspended, so to speak, upon a fair crop. On some plantations that for the crop, the worm, has appeared, and his ravages are dreaded. The worm flourishes the most vigorously in cold wet seasons.

—In a South Carolina case, under the new bankrupt act on Monday, Judge Bryan charged the jury that the suspension by a banker, merchant or trader, to meet his commercial paper at maturity, and non-resumption or payment within fourteen days although without fraud, created an act of involuntary bankruptcy; that an assignment, as made under the State law last, although in trust for the benefit of the creditors of a trader, constituted the assignor an involuntary bankrupt, as tending to hinder and defeat the operations of the bankrupt law.

—An official report from the Secretary of the Treasury shows that the expenses of collecting the revenue from customs for the year ending December 31, 1865, were $5,428,180, and for the year ending December, 1866, $6,247,294. The receipts from customs for the year ending with December, 1865, were $136,759,161, and for the year ending with December, 1866, $181,467,631. The excess of expense in collecting the revenue in 1866 over 1865, viz: $839,760, is attributable, in a great measure, to the reopening of the Southern ports, and the appointment of officers for the same. At many of these ports the expenditures exceed the receipts, and the officers are used principally for the preventive service. The excess is caused also by increase of compensation by the appointment of officers necessary to carry out the Smuggling act.

—The returns of five of the leading Western railroads for the month of June, shows a loss in receipts, as compared with June, 1866, of $599,087. The month of June was probably the poorest for tonnage that the Western roads will experience in all this year. The country was pretty well drained of the last year's crops and the new had not begun to move. The future is more encouraging, the crop prospects, as reported by the interior press, being still of the most encouraging character. From some localities poor and medium results are announced, but the great mass of territory favors a crop which for management and good quality has never been surpassed. This must tell favorably on all the railroads connecting the valley of the Mississippi with the Atlantic seaboard.

—The speculative spirit continues to extend in Wall street, and more new accounts are being opened by brokers than for a long period. The promptness of operators to put up margins is quite noticeable, and appearances indicate a further advance upon the present inflation. The public has been attracted to the share market by the crops, which speculators think are sufficiently abundant not only to reduce flour to $5 a barrel, but at the same time give the railways earnings enough to pay large dividends. Stocks are, however, abundant, and can be borrowed as readily as money, and will probably be more abundant than money as autumn advances, a fact which eager buyers will be in pursuit of profits, but not stocks, will do well to hold in view.—New York Tribune.

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
FRIDAY July 19, 1867. }

The metal market has been moderately active during the past week, the sales, in the aggregate, being about up to the usual standard for this season of the year, and for the most desirable grades of mill iron, prices are reported about $1 per ton higher than last week. There is quite an active demand for foundry irons, and with a very limited supply of this particular description, and exceedingly light arrivals, holders have no difficulty in obtaining full prices. Navigation being suspended, there are no arrivals of Hanging Rock Metal, and besides, it is alleged, that this metal can be sold to a better advantage in Cincinnati, the difference in the cost of transportation being in favor of that market. We have the following sales reported:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
TUESDAY, July 19, 1866. }

There are really no new features in the produce markets worthy of special notice, and while there is a fair volume of business, in the aggregate, and a more confident feeling, transactions generally are light, and of an unimportant character. As the reports in regard to the crops continue very favorable throughout the country, a good fall trade is almost certain, and our manufacturers are making their arrangements accordingly.

GRAIN—There have been some few sales of new Wheat, to arrive, but, as yet, there are no established prices. Oats quiet but firm, with small sales in store at 87@90c. Corn is in limited supply and firm, and prime Yellow may be quoted at 95@97c. Rye is quiet and nominally unchanged—$1,25@1,30. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—The demand for Flour is again falling off, and the market is a little weak, with a drooping tendency. Spring Wheat brands may be quoted at $11,50@12 for good to choice. Winter Wheat brands are selling at from $12@13.50, and fancy brands range from $16@17. Rye Flour is dull and nominal at $8,50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but firm at former prices—11½c for Shoulders; 12¼@13½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 21@22c for Sugar Cured Hams. Dried Beef may be quoted at 24@25c. Lard at 13@13½c, and Mess Pork at $23,50@24.

POTATOES—There is a continued good demand for new Potatoes, and we can report sales at $4,25@4.50 per bbl. Old Potatoes scarce and steady at $1 per bushel.

BUTTER—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and the market is quiet and unchanged. Small sales of prime fresh firkin Butter at 16@17c. Common packed is dull and almost unsaleable.

EGGS—There is a steady demand and we can report regular local sales at 22c for fresh packed.

MILL FEED—There is an improvement in the arrivals, but the demand seems to keep pace with the supply. Sales of Middlings at $2,25, and Bran at $1,60@1.65.

OIL—There is a fair demand and the market is steady at 85c for No. 2, and $1.07 for No. 1.

GREEN APPLES—Continue scarce and firm with sales at $5 to $7 per bbl, as to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues dull and unchanged.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, July 19, 1866. }

The market was again active and excited to-day, and, if anything, prices have still further advanced. Spot oil may be quoted at 13c, and "first water" at 12½c, and even at these figures, there are as many buyers as sellers, and the "bulls" appear sanguine of a still further improvement. We have the following sales recorded:

5000 bbls.	second freshet	12½c

800 "	deliverable at Oil City, at $4,00 per barrel.

REFINED—There was more activity manifested in the market for bonded oil to-day than during any preceding day this week, the sales, in the aggregate, reaching nearly ten thousand barrels, and, compared with yesterday, prices have still further advanced. Both July and August deliveries have advanced, and the later months, also, are tending upward. The following are the reported sales:

STOCKS

Are unsettled, by fluctuations in Erie, which still absorbs a large portion of the speculative interest. The impression gains strength that the English stockholders will join hands with the opposition party here, and make a strong effort to oust the present direction at the next election.
